

Health, Medicine and Society Archive News

February 16, 2010

Corporations and Global Health Policy

As part of the Health, Medicine, and Society program's Spring speaker series on public health, Debra Fraser-Howze, vice president of Government and External Affairs at OraSure, will discuss AIDS and health policy from the perspectives of the nonprofit and the corporate sectors.

Fraser-Howze also served as the President/CEO of the National Black Leadership Commission on AIDS (NBLCA), an organization she founded in 1987. NBLCA conducts policy, research and advocacy on HIV and AIDS to ensure effective participation of its leadership in all policy and resource allocation decisions at the national, state and local levels of communities of African descent nationwide. The event begins at 4 p.m. in Maginnes 101.

October 28, 2008

New Minor Created to Teach Health Awareness

October 14, 2008

New Minor Tackles Major Challenge

November 1, 2007

Former Surgeon General Offers Prescription to Fix U.S. Healthcare System